December 14th, 2007

2008 is fast approaching, and the team at GetWithGreen.com is stopping now to recognize a few of our favorite eco-friendly home improvement products for 2007. These products are assembled together under one roof: GetWithGreen.com's 10 Best Green Home Remodeling Products for 2007.

GetWithGreen.com's 10 Best Green Home Remodeling Products for 2007 consists of manufacturers (or categories) who deliver eco-friendly products, which make our planet a greener place. These products help us conserve, help us reuse, help us recycle, or help us become less reliant on existing harmful resources. We also looked heavily at the popularity of these products with you, our readers.

Let's give a GetWithGreen.com Thumbs up to our 10 Best Green Home Remodeling Products for 2007:

1) RainTube- The only eco-friendly gutter protector solution

In a world of metal gutter protectors, 2007 saw the emergence of an alternative - RainTube. It blew our minds at GetWithGreen.com that we could not find an alternative metal solution (e.g. recycled aluminum, etc.). After all, you can buy metal roofs made from 100% recycled materials! RainTube's eco-friendliness starts with its composition of 100% recycled plastics materials. Once installed the product keeps your gutters clear, which helps diversion of water from your homes foundation - thus reducing other long-term costs and the need for pesticides for termites etc. To top it off this product is priced to sell, so we all save!
